Youth Dies, Six Hurt In Crashes

Stalled Auto Smashed

Tree Uprooted By Collision

An 18-year-old Rochester, O., youth was killed at midnight Sunday in a traffic accident near Rochester which also injured a 15-year-old New London high school girl.

At 2:30 a. m. Sunday a spectacular two car crash on Park avenue west road, approximately a mile and a half west of the city resulted in injury to four Mansfielders and a Shelby resident.

Killed:
James Scyco, 18, of Rochester.
Injured:
Henry Brilski, 30, 335 Springmill street.
James Dykstra, 34, 137 Boughton avenue.
James W. Milliron, 39, Shelby.
Mrs. Yetta McCartney, 23, 568½ South Main street.
Mrs. Loretta Bowie, 213 Parkway drive.
Donesa Jean Hatfield, 15, New London.

The Scyco youth was killed instantly when his car careened into a ditch and overturned after colliding with a car driven by two other unidentified youths. Lorain county officials said the other car drove away following the crash.

Donesa Jean Hatfield, 15, of New London, a passenger in the Scyco car, was taken to New London hospital after suffering severe lacerations and head wounds. Her condition was reported improved today.

Officials said the accident occurred on a hillside road on State Route 511, one mile south of Rochester. Scyco was pinned behind the wheel by the impact. The youth's body was removed to the Keith-Andrews funeral home in Wellington pending arrangements.

AUTO STALLS

Most seriously injured in the Park avenue west road accident was Brilski, who was reported in "poor" condition at General hospital today. State highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies who investigated the crash said Brilski suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, severe body lacerations and possible internal injuries.

According to witnesses, the car Brilski was driving ran out of gas and stalled in the north lane of traffic, headed west. Owner of the car, James W. Milliron of Shelby, was a passenger in the car.

Patrolmen said Brilski got out of the car and was attempting to flag down traffic to get a lift into town for gas when a car, driven by Walter Hoffman, 33, of 476 South Clifton boulevard, crashed into the stalled car, also striking Brilski.

Deputies said the Hoffman car continued west 150 feet after turning the stalled car over twice and struck a pine tree, pulling it out by the roots.

Hoffman escaped injury. Milliron suffered a broken nose and was treated at General hospital. Other passengers in the Hoffman car, all injured, were: Mrs. McCartney, lacerations of the face and hands, reported in "good" condition today at General hospital; Mrs. Bowie, released from the hospital today after receiving treatment for body bruises; and Dykstra treated for bruises of the left ankle and shoulder and released.

As an airlift crewman he delivers food to blockaded western Berliners. In his spare time he hunts game to provide Christmas dinners for German kids, who will be guests of the army's German youth administration.

Talkington already has bagged 11 deer this season. Last year he got 22 and the year before 39.

Reds Speed New Drive On Nanking

Battle Shifts From Suchow

NANKING —(AP)— The critical battle for central China appeared today to be shifting from Suchow to the very approaches of this Chinese capital.

It was learned reliably that the estimated 250,000 nationalist troops at Suchow, defense bastion for Nanking, have been ordered to withdraw southward to engage the main Chinese communist forces.

The outcome of the entire battle for Nanking may depend on the ability of the Suchow garrison to make the withdrawal. The Reds are concentrating in the areas of Suhsien and Pengpu, rail cities on Nanking's approaches.

There has been no indication that the withdrawal order is being carried out—as yet—although it was made several days ago. Suchow still is getting supplies by planes, which are taking out wounded.

The battle for Suchow has raged three weeks. Its abandonment would indicate that the government regards as more critical the developing struggle in the 211 miles between here and Suchow. Earlier reports from the fronts indicated that the communists have left secondary troops to engage nationalists within the Suchow perimeter.

In America, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's arrival here this week is expected to touch off a fresh drive to get the United States to underwrite China's war against its communist foes.

Rain Washes Snow Away

Mansfielders got their first real taste of winter when an inch of snow fell in the city last night and early this morning. But by noon cold rain had turned the snow to slush and walking on city streets was hazardous.

The Ohio forecast is windy with snow flurries in the central and east portions today. According to the forecast there will be clear skies tonight accompanied by freezing temperatures. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer.

Mansfield was one of the coldest spots in the state this morning with a low of 32 last night and Cincinnatti was even colder with a temperature of 31 degrees last night.

The weather thoughout Ohio yesterday was cloudy or rainy. Mansfield had a total of .27 inches of precipitation in the 24 hour period ending at 7:30 a. m. today.

Mansfield stores will begin their holiday shopping hours tonight, remaining open until 9 p. m. for the convenience of Mansfielders who are unable to do their shopping during the day.

Most stores will remain open every Monday night until 9 p. m. from now until Christmas. They also will remain open until 9 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of Christmas week. Stores will close at 5:30 p. m. Christmas eve.

Russians Demand U. N. Act

Israel Readies Entry Request

PARIS—(INS)—Russia called on the United Nations today to order the withdrawal of Arab troops from Palestine, and drew the immediate opposition of Britain, Syria and Egypt.

The UN's political committee resumed debate on the Holy Land dispute, as Israel prepared to ask the world organization to consider its application for membership.

The committee, on the first anniversary of the general assembly partition resolution, heard Soviet spokesman Semyon K. Tsarapkin ask that foreign soldiers be ordered out of Palestine, lest military action again erupt.

Britain supported Syria's Faris El Khoury who contended that the Russian recommendation was not within the jurisdiction of the committee or the general assembly, but was a council matter.

Both Syria and Egypt charged that the Jews were "the real foreigners" in Palestine. El Khoury and Egypt's Mohmoud Fawzi Bey stressed the presence of "eastern Europeans" from "Soviet bloc countries" in Israel.

Mahmoud Fawzi Bey read to the committee several press dispitches reporting "the unhindered migration of Jews to Palestine from Soviet bloc countries."

He termed this a "political, social and economic danger." The Egyptian spokesman complained that certain powers were arming the Jews and "denying arms to the Arabs." He did not specify.

Wound Fatal To Boy, 12

Hunting Victim Dies Sunday

Richard Morgan Richardson, 12-year-old victim of a hunting accident near his Fleming Falls road home Friday, died at 9:45 a. m. Sunday in General hospital.

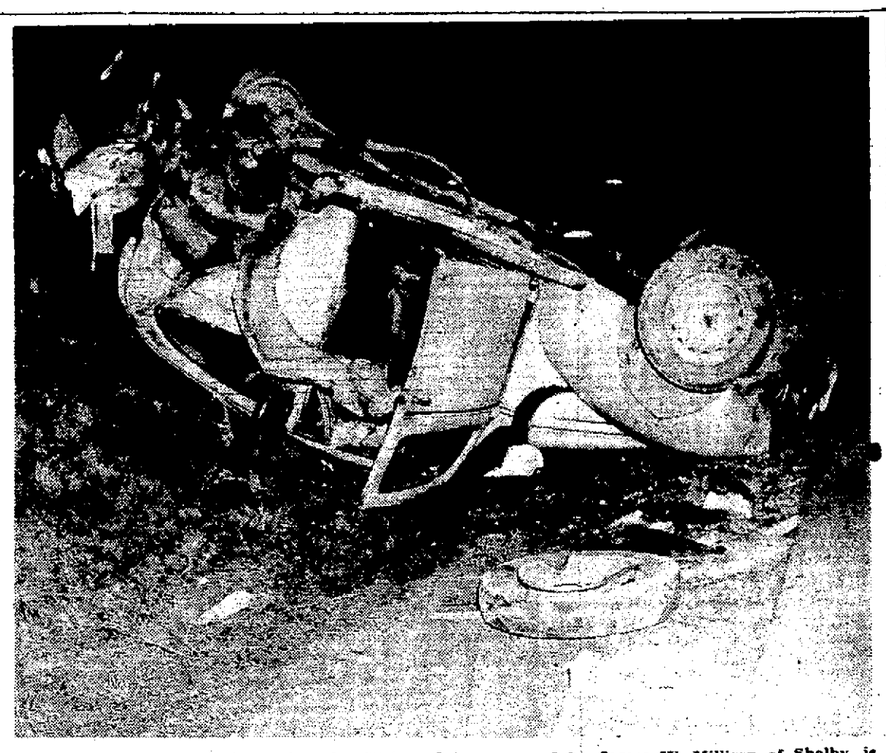
Coroner D. C. Lavender ruled death accidental and caused by a shotgun wound in the abdomen. The boy allegedly walked in front of his brother, Paul, 14, as the older boy fired at a rabbit. The accident occurred at 11:10 a. m. Friday.

The brother told sheriff's deputies he warned Richard to stay behind him, but that a rabbit jumped out of a field and that the younger boy ran after it. Deputies estimated the boy was about four feet from the gun when shot.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Richardson, Mansfield, R. D. 2, the boy was born in Marion. He had lived in Mansfield four years and was enrolled in the fifth grade at Newman school.

Besides his parents and brother, Paul, he is survived by another brother, Robert; five sisters, Mrs. Vivian Traxler, Mrs. Martha Schrack, and the Misses Dorothy, Margaret and Linda Lou, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. at the Wappner funeral home, in charge of Rev. A. H. Perry, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.



TOTAL WRECK—Crushed remains of a 1938 model car, owned by James W. Milliron of Shelby, is shown above, a few minutes after the car, stalled on Park avenue west road out of gas, was rammed by a car driven by Walter Hoffman, 476 South Clifton boulevard. Four Mansfielders and Milliron were injured in the accident early Sunday.

Served 20 Years

Finefrock Resigns Child Welfare Job

John H. Finefrock today resigned as chairman of the Child Welfare board after 20 years of service.

A letter of resignation was sent to Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer this morning. In the letter Finefrock asked to be relieved of his duties with the board after Jan. 1, giving as his reason ill health.

Judge Cramer said, "I'm sorry that John Finefrock has seen fit to resign. He has served Richland county well during the past 20 years. I very much appreciate his taking over when the new Child Welfare law went into effect. I'll make an effort to get someone else by the first of the year."

Judge Cramer said he had no announcement to make as to Finebrock's successor.

When Finefrock first joined the board 20 years ago, there was an average of about 80 children in the home at all times. Today the number has decreased to about 55 or 60, who can be adequately cared for.

There is a definite reason for such a decrease, Finefrock said.

"Twenty years ago we were just beginning to notice the increase in children coming from broken homes," he said. "Before that most of the children in the home were orphans; today orphans are in the minority. Most of the children in the home today are there because of broken homes caused by marital troubles or divorce."

There is another reason, too, Finefrock declared.

"Twenty years ago we didn't have the adopted boarding home program that is being carried out now. There was no place else for children to go at that time except to the home. Now we have case workers who get as many children as possible into private boarding homes."

Finefrock was vice-chairman of the former Children's Home board, serving in that capacity until 1932, when he was named as chairman.

On Jan. 1, 1946, a new state law went into effect changing the Children's Home boards into Child Welfare boards all over the state and giving the new board jurisdiction over the entire county. At that time the members of the old Children's Home board, took over as the new Child Welfare board.

The new law included the provision that the probate judge may be a member or appoint someone in his place. Judge Cramer named Finefrock to serve in his place and he was renamed chairman. The other four members, including Mrs. Glenn Young, secretary, Mrs. Emma Young, George Stelts, and Walter O. Fry, are appointed by the county commissioners.

Seek Berlin Dispute End

'New and Final' Plan Discussed

PARIS — (UP) — Chairman Juan A. Bramuglia of the United Nations Security council discussed with the three western powers today a new and final plan to reach a compromise on the Berlin crisis.

Meeting with Bramuglia at his George V hotel headquarters were the three western experts on Berlin—America's Philip C. Jessup, Britian's Sir Alexander Cadogan and France's Alexandre Parodi. Bramuglia was scheduled to meet later in the day with Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky.

The plan was approved late yesterday by the six neutral nations of the Security council who have been attempting unsuccessfully to settle the east-west disputes in behind the scenes meetings.

One neutral, however, described the new plan as "not very different" from the one Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky vetoed last month.

The new plan calls for a joint committee of Berlin experts to work out a proposal for introducing the Soviet mark into All Berlin as the first step. The committee would work under the auspices of the security council. The western powers would introduce the currency into their sectors, and Russia would lift the soviet land blockade of Berlin, at the same time.

Bonnett Waives Jury Trial

WILLARD—William Bonnett, 78, retired railroad engineer held in the Saturday hammer slaying of his wife, Maude, 63, today waived jury trial and entered a "not guilty" plea to a first degree murder charge. He was given a preliminary hearing in the court of Mayor Ray A. Snook then taken to Norwalk to await Huron county grand jury action.

Bonnett, in an oral confession to police yesterday, said his wife attacked him with a knife Saturday. After he retreated to the front door his wife felled him with a glass vase, then stabbed him in the side, he related.

He got up, choked her, and then beat her fatally with a hammer, police said Bonnett confessed.

ROPE BREAKS

A suicide attempt followed the killing, Bonnett admitted. He secured a clothesline with which he attempt to hang himself in the room of tragedy, but the rope broke. He attempted to burn it in the stove. It later was found there by police.

Mayor Snook quoted Bonnett as saying "We have argued for years and I got tired of it."

Eight hours after the slaying Mrs. Bonnett's son-in-law, Milo J. Simpson, arrived at the tiny apartment over a meat market, a half block from the police station. Bonnett was sitting beside the body next to the phone.

Summoned by Simpson, Policeman Arthur Kale found a bloody hammer, a butcher knife, a broken, blood-stained vase and the clothesline in the stove. He took Bonnett to City hospital where Bonnett was treated for cuts on his hands and chest. Sunday Bonnett was transferred to city jail.

Guy Vaughn, sheriff's deputy, took Bonnett to Norwalk immediately following today's preliminary hearing.

Private funeral services will be held at 7 p. m. today in the Fink funeral home here with Rev. J. F. Herion, pastor of Grace Methodist church of which she was a member, officiating. The body will be shipped to Garrett, Ind., for burial there.

Mrs. Bonnett was a member of the Navy Mothers club, Women's Benefit association and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Order of Railroad Conductors. Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a daughter, Mrs. Milo Simpson of Willard; a son, Theodore Schlegle of Willard; two brothers, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Delay Filing Of Charges

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said today his office was continuing the investigation of the Friday night shooting of Henry F. Byrd, 27, of 235 Wood street, during a quarrel at that address with his father-in-law, Orland T. Champion, 54.

Lutz said he "couldn't say when an affidavit would be filed against Champion." Champion has been held in the city jail since Friday night.

Although Lutz declined to state when charges would be filed, it is probable that they will be filed late today or early tomorrow at the very latest.

Under Ohio law, a suspect can be held "a reasonable length of time" for investigation. The courts have ruled that 72 hours is reasonable. Judge H. H. Schettler explained. After that time, a lawyer can file a writ of habeas corpus to have the prisoner charged or released.

The prosecutor did not reveal what charge would be lodged against Champion, who, police said, admitted he shot Byrd with a .22-caliber pistol during an argument.

Byrd is at General hospital where his condition was described as "good."

PLANE CRASH KILLS 8

PARIS — (UP) — The French press agency reported from Oran today that eight crew members of a French military plane were killed Saturday when the plane crashed into the Mediterranean.

4 Others Injured In Gales

Floods Hit Three States

CHICAGO — (AP) — The elements hit the nation in various forms yesterday. Floods and high winds struck the South. Rain and snow plagued many areas.

At least five persons were killed in automobile accidents attributed to the weather. Another was missing.

Rain-swollen rivers left their banks in three southern states — Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes. Property and crop damage was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Four were injured in a windstorm which hit Fort Davis, near Tuskegee, Ala. A brief snowstorm struck parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and then moved southeastwards, with the snow changed to rain or slush and strong winds diminishing.

Three died in Georgia and Alabama highway accidents, and another person was missing. Two were killed on a slippery highway in Pennsylvania.

Southern floodwaters originated in northern sections of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

Many roads were inundated. Near Montgomery, Ala., 335 convicts were evacuated from a prison farm to the Kilby state prison, nearby, when the Tallapoosa river rose. Homes were evacuated in scattered floods around Birmingham and Phenix City, Ala., Atlanta, Columbus and Macon, Ga., and Knoxville, Tenn.

Peachtree Creek overflowed at Atlanta, forcing residents of a fashionable northside residential section to flee. Macon had the highest flood level in its history in the Ocmulgee river. Highways in the vicinity of Rome, Ga., were in danger of flooding. At Columbus, Ga., the warehouse area was in danger and workmen removed merchandise from buildings.

SNOW HITS MID-WEST

A number of Kansas and Oklahoma communities were without electric service yesterday as the result of a snow and wind storm in that area. Transportation and communications were disrupted. Heavy sleet broke power lines to 43 Oklahoma communities. Telephone and telegraph lines snapped under coats of ice. Some highways in south central Kansas were closed.

Up to three inches of snow fell in some parts of western Pennsylvania. Snow fell on the outskirts of Washington, D. C., but melted as it turned to rain. Rain and snow hampered motorists in eastern West Virginia.

Blizzards and thunderstorms hit the Cascade mountains in Washington. Communications were severed and blown down trees blocked highways. Many automobiles were caught in the heavy snowfall.

Tire Ruts Leave Clues On Lawns

Deep tire ruts on Ruth avenue lawns were checked today by police for possible clues leading to the apprehension of alleged youthful drivers who drove over the lawns late yesterday.

Police received the report of the south end vandalism shortly after 11 p. m. Sunday. The police report stated that the lawn of Glenn Rohleder, 383 Ruth avenue, was one of the many damaged in the neighborhood.

Today, Rohleder, principal of Senior high school, said his entire neighborhood was aroused by the incident. He added that all tire marks are being kept intact to aid the police in apprehension of the drivers.

Unions Take Strike Vote

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A strike vote is being taken by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on nearly a score of western railroads.

The brotherhood is demanding that a third man be added to the operating crews of multiple unit Diesel engines on these roads. The engines are used in both passenger and freight service.

Grand Chief Engineer Alvanley Johnston said "safety is a factor in our demand." At present one engineer and one fireman compose the crew. The union wants another engineer added.

Passages From Hopley Bill Show Bill of Rights Would Be Scrapped

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE—

On Sunday evening I reported to the American people that the Hopley Report, sponsored by Secretary Forrestal, was a greater attack on the liberty of every American than ever dreamed of by Hitler or Stalin. This is why: On page 39—the Bill of Rights is suspended. This is the exact language:

"d. Detention. The problem of detention is one of considerable magnitude during emergency conditions. It should be met by providing suitable, safe and secure places where persons may be detained for the public good until such time as conditions permit their release or circumstances warrant their trial. Places of detention should be provided to accommodate such persons temporarily deprived of their liberty."

The "considerable magnitude" above means a lot of people are going to be arrested...It means that the people who put you in jail can keep you there until THEY think it is safe for you to be out....It means if they haven't sufficient evidence, "the circumstances do not warrant your trial"....

It means they can hold you until they think they have the "evidence" to convict you.....It calls for the building of concentration pens NOW to hold you—when you are deprived TEMPORARILY of your liberty.

On page 143, Hopley Report, the Dep't of Defense provides for the concentration camps for you:

"Detention: Provision of suitable and secure places for detention of persons for the public protection, including expanded and alternate facilities."

This means, in plain language, if your Defense Dep't decides you ought to be in a concentration camp, they need not make any charges. You can be jailed for the "public protection"—without any charges against you. Heil Hopley!

Apparently, Wall St. doubts its own patriotism. Their financial rights in the lives of Americans are "recognized" by Forrestal's Defense...Can you believe that the following paragraph on page 210 was printed at your expense?

"There are still other agencies, whose interests are allied to the field of plant protection or who have a strong financial or other civil interest in preventing loss of life or damage to property. Among these, but not including all, are the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the National Fire Protection Association, the Mutual Alliance, the Association of American Railroads, State Fire and Insurance Commissions and local building and sanitary inspection services."

In short, your Defense Dep't is planning to protect your home because Wall Streeters will lose money if the enemy burns it and you....And don't you love Mr. Hopley's "or other interests"? Apparently, no one even considered the plain patriotism—such as the troops in the field have to show....

I just don't believe that one. I believe it is an insult to the executives of these organizations to even suggest they assist in defense—because they'll lose money if their fellow-Americans are killed.

By the way, doesn't this mean that the NEXT man in the job must be examined in public about his "financial" interests — and whether he is trying to protect Americans — or Wall St. investments?

Women Seeking Equal Pay

Auditor to Make Fund Report

Consideration of a "cost of-living bonus" for city employes for 1949 tops the agenda for tonight's city council meeting.

The bill, as it was drawn up, is the same as the one in effect this year, providing a $25 a month bonus for all male employes and $12.50 a month for female employes.

Twelve of the city's 13 full-time females have petitioned council "for equal consideration in any proposed wage adjustment."

The female employes are particularly interested in securing a "cost of living bonus" on par with that granted the male employes.

PLAN TO ATTEND

Several of the women indicated today that they planned to attend the meeting tonight to present their request for an equal bonus personally. If the female employes are granted an equal bonus, it would raise the city payroll for 1949 by $1,800.

Council also will hear a report by the city auditor on funds available for appropriation during the remainder of the year.

His report shows there is $54,202 in the general fund, $6,724 in the garbage fund, $67,997 in the water works fund, $5,773 in the sanitary sewer fund, $2,667 in the parking meter fund, and $41,595 available for street department appropriations.

Council will be asked to approve a $3,500 appropriation for funds for an aerial topographical survey of the Clear Fork reservoir.

The survey will begin when the water impounding operations are started.

Understanding U. N. Talk Is Easy As ABC's (Backwards) Says Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—Are you aware?

Are you hep to what is going on in the United Nations? Can you astonish your friends with your easy command of diplomatic terms?

Do the people who used to laugh when you sat down at the piano now hold back their hoots until you try to pronounce plenipotentiary?

Well, there is a way to end all that. No longer need you babble with the rabble about simple subjects like baseball, the structure of atom, or the eternal whether about the weather.

You, too, can talk about the United Nations, the most thrilling story of our times. You too, can be the life of the party as you hold your listeners spellbound with fluent word pictures of the problems and pitfalls that beset a one-world government.

Understanding the United Nations is as simple as A-B-C, or, rather, it is as simple as learning your ABC's all over again—and backwards.

To help pierce the fog of phases and phrases that erupt from the U. N. sessions you merely need a dictionary of the new diplomatic language generated there.

Somewhere lost in every group of words used by the statesmen is a meaning—something someone is trying to say. The words only need to be translated to be understood. So herewith is presented a glossary of the more common phrases employed at the United Nations which should make its debates crystal clear to everybody:

Truce—something which is stranger than friction.

Sovereignty—a thing every nation thinks every other nation except itself ought to give up.

Veto—a device with five handles for getting rid of hot potatoes without loss of dignity.

Negotiations—a type of conference known in baseball as "a rhubarb."

Bloc—a group of dissident nations whose leader is known to the other side as a "blockhead."

Peace—this is what all the fighting is about.

The foregoing are general terms. There follows a strictly Russian glossary:

War monger—a nation that won't tell you how to make an atom bomb.

Monger—one who mongs. An insane man you can't sell on the idea he is entirely wrong and you are entirely right.

Petty bourgeois—one who has three meals a day—and enjoys them.

Bourgeois—one who could afford to eat four meals a day if he wanted to.

Fascist obstructionists—a guy who wants to vote in private.

Trotskyite obstructionist—any Russian who left Russia except on a government expense account.

Rightist obstructionist—a right-handed Trotskyite.

Leftist obstructionist—a search fails to reveal this term exists in the Russian language of today.

Counter-revolutionary—a man who counts revolutions.

Fascist—a non-communist.

Monarcho-Fascist—a non-communist with a royal flush.

Deviationist—a man who couldn't swallow communism all at one gulp.

National deviationist—a Yugoslav hotfoot.

Rightist nationalist deviationist—the politburo still hasn't figured out anyone mean enough to call this.

Imperialist—anyone who objects to Russian expansion.

Capitalist imperialist—the same, in spades.

Capitalist exploiter—a pocorn stand owner who butters his product—but only puts oil in the machine.

The applicant must be a member of the guard, between 17 and 35 years of age, with typing and clerical ability.

"Anyone who did administrative work in the army would have an advantagge, but that is not required," Capt. Boughton said. "We will train the right man."

Nine Flee Flames At S. Adams Home

Fire of unknown origin caused heavy damage to the home of Raymond Bottorf, 95 South Adams street, early Sunday morning, Central station firemen said today.

Called to the residence at 3:05 a. m., firemen aided in the escape of nine occupants who were aroused when fire ate through the basement floor into a first floor bedroom.

Firemen said the blaze started in the basement, destroying wiring, then coursed up through a partition into a closet in the first floor bedroom. Heat from the burning clothing in the closet apparently forced the closet door open and spread the flames to the room where all the paper was burned from the walls, firemen said.

Firemen said the second floor of the home, occupied by Harry Kelso and his family of three, escaped damage.

At 2:20 a. m. No. 2 station men went to 141 West Sixth street, where a car owned by Tony Di Achille, parked in front of the residence, was on fire. Firemen said wiring in the car was damaged.

No. 4 station firemen were called out at 10:53 a. m. Sunday to the home of C. L. Stevick, 384 Ninth avenue, where the roof had caught fire from an unknown origin. Firemen said damage was light.

Church to Build Youth Lodge As Its Anniversary Project

Plans for a lodge in the country to be used by the young people of the church for recreational purposes were presented to members of the First Christian church yesterday afternoon as a part of their 115th anniversary observance.

The purchase of land, preferably along some stream in Richland county and the building of a lodge, will be the church's anniversary project. It will be supervised by members of the anniversary committee, headed by J. D. Wilcox and including, Mrs. O. F. Shivley, Mrs. Albert Netting, Myron D. Miller, C. C. Bemiller, Richland Bowden, John Selby and the pastor, Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, The project was presented yesterday following a congregational dinner at the North Park pavilion, by Miller.

Recently, the committee members inspected a similar lodge at Newark, which is 30 by 60 and has a big fireplace. It seemed to answer the needs of the young people in the Newark Christian church and will be the pattern for the one here, Miller said.

During the program yesterday afternoon, each of the members who has been affiliated with the church 50 years and more, was presented with a red rose. Mrs. W. J. Tappan has the longest record in the Christian church. She has been a member for 75 years, 52 of which have been with the Mansfield church.

At morning worship hour, Dr. Cyrus M. Yocum spoke to members on the church history and predicted a "great future" for the church.

Dr. Yocum also talked briefly during the program in the afternoon.

As a part of the afternoon's program features, Rev. and Mrs. Hagelbarger were given a "surprise" cash gift in appreciation of the beginning of their 20th year here.

Browns Clinch Western Division Title

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—College football was running, not walking, toward the nearest exit today to the tune of "Anchors Aweigh" and as the curtain started down there was plenty of evidence that the triple threat is here to stay.

The final big football Saturday proved that passing is a fine weapon, in its place. But no longer can a team throw more pitches than Dizzy Dean used in 11 innings and hope to make it stick.

There was a time, not too long ago, when football almost became a cross between basketball and jai alai, so frantically were the boys throwing the ball. But in the big showdowns Saturday the accent was on the lads who can both loop it and leg it.

It was an unusual weekend.

Navy tied Army, 21-21, ending the Cadets' all-winning streak.

Notre Dame won its 21st straight, eclipsing the immortal Rockne's all-winning record.

West Virginia upset Maryland—through use of the medieval drop-kick.

And Barney Poole of Mississippi, Army and Mississippi finally played his last college game just when it began to appear he might become too old for pro football.

DID HARRY KNOW?

Navy accomplished its feat of legerdemain before 102,000 astounded customers. The only spectator who appeared to expect this upset was President Truman, pretty good at those things himself. What actually happened was that Army was hit by a hurricane, one big Bill Hawkins by name, who churned the middle to pieces and scored two touchdowns. Then a nerveless youngster named Roger Drew calmly booted the extra point.

Bill Gay was the running ace of Notre Dame's 46-0 conquest of Washington as Frank Tripucka ran the club like a worthy successor to Johnny Lujack.

Gene Simmons revived a lost art as he dropkicked a field goal and an extra point in West Virginia's 16-14 win over Maryland. And Poole bowed out by catching two touchdown passes as Mississippi clouted Mississippi State, 34 to 7.

The triple threat kids who starred where Charley (Choo Choo) Justice of North Carolina, who had a full head of steam, SMU's Gil Johnson, Alabama's Ed Salem and Oregon State's Don Samuel.

Justice scored twice from 80 and 50 yards out, tossed two scoring passes and set up the other touchdown as the Tarheels feathered Virginia, 34-12, and waltzed into a Sugar Bowl date with Oklahoma. It was a performance which matches par on any course.

SMU COMES BACK

Johnson passed and ran SMU 99 yards in the last two minutes for the touchdown which tied TCU, 7-7; gave SMU uncontested possession of its second straight Southwest conference crown and a New Year's Day date in the Cotton Bowl with Oregon.

Salem scored two touchdowns as he ran and passed Alabama to a 34-28 victory over Florida while Samuel's feet and fingers led Oregon State to a 28-12 triumph over Nebraska.

So, at curtain call, there are only two questions. First, whatever happened to the aerial circus? Second, what happened to the two-platoon system? The best answer receives two tickets to the haircut bowl game in fearless Fraley's kitchen.

Graham Hits For 4 Scores In 31-28 Win

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS) The Cleveland Brows are "in" today.

Although badly bruised and playing with many handicaps, the defending champs copped their third straight western division title of the All-America conference yesterday by nosing out the San Francisco '49ers, 31-28, before 61,000 fans on the west coast.

By virtue of the victory, the Browns will play the winner of the eastern division race at the Cleveland stadium either Dec 12 or 19, depending upon whether there will be an eastern playoff.

Otto Graham, who sustained a knee injury in the contest with Los Angeles Thursday, entered the game on his own decision—and it was fortunate for his mates that he did

ALL GRAHAM PASSES

All four Cleveland touchdowns came as the result of Graham passes. The other three points and the points after touchdown were the work of Lou Groza. He kicked a 21-yard field goal in the first period.

The brilliant all-league quarterback made his decision one minute after the opening kickoff. A few seconds later the Browns had a touchdown.

The Browns recovered a fumble on the first Frisco play from scrimmage and accurate Otto limped to the field to toss a 41-yard aerial to Dante Lavelli in the end zone.

After Groza kicked the point after touchdown he added three points with a field goal. The '49ers, however, came back with two touchdowns in the second period and held a 14-10 lead at halftime

Three minutes after the third canto got under way, the Friscans increased their lead to 21-10.

San Francisco's first score came in the waining minutes of the first period after a sustained drive was climaxed by an eight-yard plunge into the end zone by Fullback Hoe Perry

ALBERT THROWS THREE

Frankie Albert, who predicted that he would blast the Bro ns wide open, accounted for the next three San Francisco touchdowns He flipped a touchdown pass to Alyn Beals into the end zone after the '49ers had recovered a fumble in the second period to make the score 14-10

It was a 29-yard aerial from Albert to Beals that put the west coast boys in the lead, 21-10, but the Browns took over from there

In the last eight minutes of the third period, the Brownies racked up 21 points, all on Graham passes. Marion Motley, Dub Jones and Edgard Jones were on the receiving ends.

Motley's scoring pass covered six yards, Dub Jones' 20 and Edgar Jones' 33, with the latter's maneuver being the most brilliant play of the day.

An intercepted pass by Tommy Colella set up the Browns' last touchdown. Graham tossed a 31-yard pass to Edgar Jones, who made his way to the [illegible] stripe, from where he powered his way into the end zone

An Albert to Perry pass accounted for the '49ers' final score in the last seven minutes.

THEN HE DROPPED IT—Back Bob Nussbaumer (50) of Washington Redskins goes up and over a fallen teammate only to be tackled by End Ed Cifers (14) of the Chicago Bears in first period of game at Chicago. Nussbaumer fumbled after the tackle. Back Fred Evans (not in picture) of the Bears recovered the fumble and raced for Bears' second touchdown. Tackle John Sanchez (49) of Redskins runs in on play, while Center Stuart Clarkson (31) of Bears does acrobatics.—(AP photo)

Browns and Eagles Must Now Wait to Get Opponents

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Half of the professional football scramble was unscrambled today, with the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles clinching divisional honors in their respective leagues.

Philadelphia stowed away the National league's eastern division title for the second season in a row by blanking the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-0.

The Eagles and Brownies now can coast through their remaining games and wait for the other half of their circuit to bring out a challenger for the championship in the rival loops.

Two clubs in the AAC eastern race and two in the National league's western division have a chance, and one scrap may be settled next Sunday at Baltimore.

MUST BEAT COLTS

The Buffalo Bills, leading the AAC eastern division by one game, can win the dubious honor of meeting Cleveland in the AAC championship playoff by beating the Baltimore Colts. If the Colts win, it would throw the race into a tie, and a playoff game would be required to determine the team to play the Browns. Buffalo bounced Baltimore, 35-17, in a previous meeting.

Barring an unforseeable upset, the National league's western titlist won't be decided until the two Chicago powerhouses — the Cardinals and Bears—collide. The teams, each with nine wins and one defeat, have a date Dec. 12. The Bears should get by Detroit next Sunday, likewise the Cardinals in their game with Green Bay. Earlier this season, the Bears defeated the Cards, 28-17.

Buffalo knocked the New York Yankees out of contention yesterday, 35-14, while Baltimore retained a mathematical chance by rallying to sock the Brooklyn Dodgers, 38-20. Chicago and Los Angeles in the AAC were idle.

In the National league, the Eagles got an assist from the Bears, who swamped the Washington Redskins, 48-13, and left them no chance of catching up in the Eastern flag chase. Two other National contests saw the New York Giants down the Boston Yanks, 28-14, and the Los Angeles Rams sink Green Bay, 24-10. The Cardinals and Detroit Lions had an off day.

Orange Bowl Awaits Word From Texas

NEW YORK — (UP) — Orange Bowl committeemen today awaited the "ayes" of Texas to come upon them, for with a nod of the Longhorn the lineup and the major New Year's day football games will be complete.

The Orange Bowl grabbed off Georgia late Saturday night for one of its teams after the Bulldogs whipped Georgia Tech, 21 to 13, to win the Southeastern Conference championship. But they didn't land anyone else even though the rest of the bowl committees were making their announcements as fast as the wires could handle them.

Then yesterday Texas athletic director Dana X. Bible announced that the twice-beaten, once-tied Longhorns were being "considered" for the Orange Bowl Other sources said it was Texas doing the considering for a bid from the Miami people.

Otherwise the bowl games were set. The Rose Bowl lined up California and Northwestern last week, and then Saturday the Dallas, Tex., Cotton Bowl signed up Oregon to face Southern Methodist.

SMU tied Texas Christian, 7-7, Saturday but already was assured of the bid and the Southwest Conference championship with an 8-1-1 record. Oregon lost only to Michigan this year.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans secured Oklahoma, the Big Seven champion beaten only by Santa Clara, to play once-tied, undefeated North Carolina. Oklahoma downed Oklahoma A&M, 19-15, Saturday and Carolina walloped Virginia, 34-12.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., already had picked Missouri, and it hopped upon unbeaten-untied Clemson after the Tigers downed Auburn in the slush, 7 to 6, Saturday. Clemson still must meet the Citadel Saturday.

The Dixie Bowl at Birmingham, Ala., lined up Baylor, a team which tied Rice at 7-7 Saturday, to meet Wake Forest and the Delta Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., signed Oklahoma A&M against William and Mary despite W&M's 9-0 loss to Arkansas Saturday.

Orlie Grable, with 186-181-247—614, led the locals, while Shell had a 621 for Fostoria Other local scores were: Englehorn, 589; Selby, 551; Berger, 529, and Frank Burton, 513.

15 Grid Teams Are Still Unbeaten

NEW YORK—(UP)—Headed by two burly customers—Notre Dame and Michigan—the midwest today boasted seven of the remaining 15 unbeaten, untied football teams going into the final week of the 1948 campaign.

Clemson and California were the only other major units on the perfect list.

The east lost its last major team when the Army ran into difficulties against the Navy at Philadelphia last Saturday. The result was a 21-21 tie.

The leading minor team still was the Missouri Valley Vikings, who have stretched their streak to 42 in a row.

Would You Look For a Plum On a Crabapple Tree?
The place to buy a man's gift is at a man's store. Here you'll find the garments, furnishings and accessories . . . the kind men buy themselves. Sizes are more accurate, colors and patterns are correct Every item coming into our stock is subjected to the most rigid scrutiny for value and style-righters. So here at Matthes is the logical place to get "his" gift. Shirts, of all kinds, ties, robes, sweaters, gloves, Stetson hats, leather jackets, luggage, billfolds, toiletries. And gift certificates. Besides just hundreds of other items he'll appreciate.

Logan Rates Among Fine Frosh

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State university's freshman football squad, one of the best to wear the Scarlet and Gray, stamp the Buckeyes as possible Western conference champs in 1949

Despite the loss of 10 seniors to walk the graduation gangplank, coach Wes Fesler's rebuilding plans for 1949 will not be too difficult. The Bucks have accumulated a galaxy of scholastic stars that reads like a football player's Who's Who If these highly touted frosh stars live up to their advance billing the Bucks will be a team to contend with.

Ohio State is fortified with 13 all-state gridders and can field all-Ohio selections at every position Capable reserves also are available

OUT-OF-STATERS

Out-of-state prospects include Bill Todd, blockbusting guard from Beaver Falls, Pa Jim Demeola Corapolis Pa center Don Cox slick field-general from Pittsburgh Al Chiappina a hard, slashing runner from Jeanette, Pa Ned Scholesser Garrett, Ind fullback and John Marold Hemstead, N Y an all-scholastic center

The "front-liners" an energetic alumni group are responsible for coralling Ohio talent that might have otherwise strayed south of the border. They went after the top talent in Ohio a year ago and got most of it.

Although graduation claims Joe Whisler, Alex Verdova Mike Cannavino, Dave Templeton (Mansfield), Ray Dipierro Bob Dorsey, Howard Teifke, Chuch Renner, Brent Kirk and Chuch Fazio, the Buckeye coaching staff doesn't appear worried Only at guards and wingback will the Buckeyes be hard hit.

Replacement for ex-captain Dave Templeton and Ray Dipierro at guards will be the most difficult gaps to fill, but the Bucks boast two outstanding prospects in Ed Forkner, 205-pounder from Middleton, and Thor Ronemus of Springfield. Paul Phael of Piqua is another mobile, destructive playmaker who will battle for a varsity berth

The frosh have a host of [illegible] all defenders at the tackles. Howard Shuster of Berlin and Dick Logan, Mansfield all-America, top the list. Others are Bob Endres of Cincinnati Hughes; Sherman Gandee of Akron Garfield; Joe Campanella of Cleveland Latin, and Julius Wittman of Massillon.

It won't be easy to fill Joltin' Joe Whisler's shoes at fullback but Dick Corless, pile-driving bucker who transferred from Michigan State. Jack Wagner, Piqua's all-state choice, and "Skippy" Doyle, the Pennsylvania sensation will give Fred "Curly" Morrison, varsity holdover, a battle for his money

Loss of Alex Verdova and Mike Cannavino at wingback will virtually leave the field wide open for the yearlings The freshmen present an impressive list of wingback candidates in Bob Morris of Columbus Grandview Bill Wetzel of Canton McKinley, and Earl Gentile, speedster from Cleveland Cathedral Latin.

Fesler plans to shift the heralded Vic Janowicz, Elyria's triple-threat one-man breakaway artist, from tailback to wingback because of the wealth of material at the former post

At left half, the Bucks can stand pat with holdovers Jerry Krall, Jimmy Clark, Rod Swinehart, Dick Slager and Karl Sturtz However, fast and tricky Al Chiapinni and Ray Hamilton will be available to make them hustle

Quarterback provides a wide-open battle Pan Savic has vastly improved as a passer. Pete Perini and "Bucky" Wertz are great linebackers. Dick Widdoes has unusual poise for a sophomore.

However, the frosh prospects are equally impressive All rated good passers, they include Bill Peterson of Cleveland Latin, Don Cox of Pittsburgh and Al Hodous of Cleveland John Adams.

All-Ohioan Bob Heid of Fremont Ross, leads a talented bunch of freshmen centers. Walt Klevay, of Independence, and Dick Phiel of Lorain, top the end candidates

U. S. Steel Output High

CLEVELAND —(AP)— If scrap and pig iron supplies hold up, steel producers are hopeful of maintaining record operations throug the winter, the magazine Steel said today.

Several stacks which have returned to operation after being down for repairs have improved the outlook, the magazine said.

"At the same time scrap inventories are reported the best in many months. German scrap has been coming in increasing tonnage over recent months."

Producers are pushing facilities to the limit, Steel said.

"November should establish a new alltime monthly high, surpassing the October peak of 7,973,417 ingot tons. The national ingot rate held at 99 per cent last week for the fifth consecutive week of near-capacity operations."

Salvation Army Seeks Books For Conn. Memorial Library

Major William A. Jones, commander of the Salvation Army post here, has received a request from the southern New England headquarters of the Army, asking for books for the new Memorial library which is being planned for East Northfield, Conn.

The Army has taken over a rustic type of cottage at the Young People's camp there, which contains a huge fireplace where famous Americans who were prominently connected with the world-renowned Moody Conference, have carved their names.

The list includes Dwight L. Moody, Charles M. Alexander, R. A. Torrey, C. I. Schofield, John R. Mott, W. H. Griffith Thomas, F. M. Meyer, W. J. Erdman, H. I. Erdman, R. E. Speer, Arthur T. Pierson, F. H. Jawsett, Wilfred Grenfell, Charles M. Gordon, Ralph Connor, H. W. Webb, Peplow, Dave Henders, Harry B. Powers, Francis Palmer, Emma C. Moody, George H. MacGreagor, H. G. Underwood, W. Merle Smith, Henry G. Weston, William H. Hutchins, J. F. Carson, H. N. Dougherty, Fannie B. Pierson, Mary W. Moody, S. W. Zwemer, Mary Shepherd Dougherty, Wilbert W. White, John Willis Baer, F. D. Gamewell, J. Gardner, William H. Marston, J. C. Marston, Fred G. Curtis, Helen F. Curtis, W. M. Upcroft, John A. Hutton, Benjamin Laboree.

Biographies of the above men and women or books written by them are wanted for this library, Major Jones said.

"Perhaps there are Mansfielders who have some of these books stored away and unused. If so we would greatly appreciate having them brought to the Salvation Army headquarters, South Main street. We'll see here that they are forwarded to the proper officials."

Violence Flares for Second Time In Columbus Strike

Car Smashes Through Picket Line

Workers Foil Mass Pickets

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Violence flared up briefly at the strike-bound American Zinc Oxide company plant here today for the second time in three days when a pair of workers drove their automobile through a picket line.

The sheriff's office, which had 18 deputies at the scene, said peace was restored within a few minutes.

Today's outbreak occurred when James Campbell, 33, and his brother-in-law, George Hill, 27, drove their car through the picket line and successfully entered the plant.

The pickets grabbed the car and attempted, without success, to upset it, Campbell said in a telephone interview. The front window of the car was shattered by a brick thrown by one picket. The stone did not go through the glass.

"When we got to the gate," Campbell said, "I told George to throw the spotlight on the pickets. There were about 15 of them massed there.

"I put the car in low gear, gave her the gun and we went right through. They grabbed the car and tried to upset it, but I guess it was too heavy."

The first flare-up occurred Saturday morning when angry pickets turned over the car of a maintenance man attempting to drive through the picket line. Sheriff's deputies arrested 21 pickets and two international organizers for the striking union. Four of those arrested were charged with malicious destruction of property. The others were released.

The plant has been closed since last Aug. 14 in a dispute with the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union (CIO). The company has declined to negotiate with the union until its national officers sign anti-communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley law.

Volunteer Fire Group To Organize

Liberty Township Acts Wednesday

BUCYRUS—Organization of a volunteer fire department for Sulphur Springs and Liberty township is expected to be completed at a public meeting Wednesday night at the Sulphur Springs school.

Daniel Long has been hired as fire chief by township trustees and business to be transacted at Wednesday night's meeting will include the election of a president, vice president and treasurer of the volunteer department.

The program is being financed through a tax levy passed at the primary election last May. A fire station site already has been purchased by township trustees and construction of a cement block building is underway.

A new fire truck is expected to be purchased in January.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Charles Scott will attend this week's meeting and aid in organization of the department.

Firemen Answer 2 False Alarms

Firemen answered two false alarms within three minutes shortly after noon today.

Central station and No. 5 answered a call to 379 Glessner avenue, at 12:09 p. m. Firemen said they found there is no such address.

Three minutes later, at 12:12 p. m., one engine from Central station and No. 3 went to 493 Dirlam court. There was no fire there and the woman at the house said she had not called firemen.

Firemen said both alarms were received by telephone.

Settlement Made In Death Of 587 Hogs In Rail Cars

BUCYRUS — Settlement of the $34,187 damage suit brought against the New York Central railroad by James Johnson, local livestock dealer, in connection with the death of 587 hogs was announced today by Joe M. Royer, Crawford county court clerk.

No terms of the settlement were made public but the action has been dismissed.

Johnson's petition charged that 587 of a consignment of 1,890 hogs were found dead in railroad cars here on July 26, 1947. They had been shipped here from an Iowa dealer.

The incident had repercussions in city council when irate east side residents, aroused over the stench created by the dead animals, protested to councilmen about the existence of a stockyard in a residential section.

Three hundred of the animals were removed from the cars and buried and the remaining 287 were hauled away by a fertilizer company.

Mixed Prices, Narrow Range Mark Opening Stocks Today

NEW YORK—(AP)— Prices were mixed at the opening of the stock market today.

The range was narrow, mostly in small fractions, and a number of leading issues were unchanged.

Trading in the initial phases was quiet. The opening rush to execute orders accumulated over the week-end died down within a matter of minutes.

No particular group displayed leadership, and the mixed pattern ran through virtually all sections.

On the higher side were Allied Chemical, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, General Motors, and Chrysler. On the downside were Santa Fe, American Tobacco, Goodrich and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1948

Now that higher wages and lower prices are promised, the old question arises: "What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable body."

From advance announcements it appears that the inauguration ceremonies in Washington, come January 20, are to be "bigger and better than ever"—although a change in the program prevents appearance of an elephant in the parade.

Problem of Juvenile Detention Home

ANOTHER of the problems confronting Richland county officials is that of providing a suitable juvenile detention home—if the Salvation Army board maintains its attitude that this organization cannot continue that service after the first of the year.

Whether or not the Salvation Army should ever have taken on the responsibility of providing detention quarters for juveniles is probably debatable, but this is a subject on which the public has been uninformed until the present emergency arose, and it appears that more time should be given for making a change, if it is necessary to do so.

As is said by Probate Judge Cramer, the idea of using either the city or county jail for detention of juvenile offenders is "unthinkable," nor is the children's home adaptable to such use. Immediate construction and operation of a separate institution for this specific purpose also appears impracticable, and there seems to be no inclination on the part of any family to assume such responsibility.

As the matter now stands, a thorough canvass of the situation is advisable, with greater display of public interest in the subject than has yet been evidenced.

New Automobiles To Cost Even More

EVEN in advance of the up-coming drive for "fourth round" wage increases, further jumps in automobile prices have been announced and it is interesting to note that General Motors plans discontinuance for 1949 of two of its least expensive Oldsmobile models.

This means, of course, that no saturation point has yet been reached in the market for higher-priced cars, and it also means that, for the time being at least, persons in the lower income brackets will gradually be deprived of the means of individual transportation—which, from the standpoint of traffic congestion, may be desirable—but not cheerfully accepted by those affected.

Despite the sometimes more than doubled prices of new cars, production has not yet caught up with demands and until this point is reached there is no likelihood of a downward trend—in fact, with another wage boost in prospect, further price advances would not occasion surprise.

It is noteworthy that as production in some lines of merchandise has become balanced with demand there has been at least slight reduction in prices and this may be expected in the automotive field at some later date—when the buyer's attitude becomes one of resistance rather than willingness to pay any price in order to enjoy the privilege of driving a new car.

Where Death Penalty Is Lacking

STATES that have abolished capital punishment sometimes have occasion to regret the resultant inability to exterminate the type of criminal that has no scruples against taking human life.

Such a situation exists in Michigan, where life imprisonment is the extreme penalty for murder. In Detroit recently a 20-year-old gunman climaxed his series of crimes by holding up five men at gunpoint, saying: "I've just shot a man. There's no capital punishment in Michigan, so I might as well shoot some more. If a cop comes, act natural. I want to shoot a cop tonight."

As revealed in a Detroit News editorial, this youthful criminal was a newcomer from the South, but had been in Michigan long enough to know about that state's lack of the death penalty.

Fortunately, however, his aspiration to "kill a cop" did not materialize. As it turned out, a patrolman killed him, which, in that instance, served the purpose of the death penalty—the extermination of a vicious criminal who has forfeited the right to live.

Search of Dump Reveals Huge Waste

THE QUESTION which immediately pops into the taxpayer's mind, on reading of the discovery of a buried dump of war-time airplane engine parts variously valued at one to six million dollars, is "Who paid the bill?" The unpleasant guess is that the federal government probably paid it. The reader also is likely to wonder whether they were buried to hide someone's blunder.

As this appears to offer a proper subject for investigation, it probably will be looked into, and it should be. Regardless of whose money is involved, if it is true that the parts are for types of aircraft engines still in use, and if they were fit for use when dumped, then the waste is inexcusable.

Not only money was wasted, but also scarce materials and productive time. If the end of the war made the parts useless, and it was not worth while to salvage them, then the items can only be charged off as one of the perhaps unavoidable costs of war.

The primary purpose of probing it now should be to find out why it occurred, so that such waste can be prevented in the future.

Looking Backward and Forward

A HUNDRED years ago Americans were discussing what to do with the new territory won from Mexico, and the question of slavery was coming more and more into conversation. Important as those topics were, they seem simple of solution beside those which are troublesome today.

What will the problems of 2048 be like? And how will the present ones appear in retrospect?

Seek To Curb Monopoly

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — During his campaign President Truman had much to say about big business and its monopolistic tendencies.

He spoke during those trying days from personal knowledge. Not only was he constantly conscious of the power of big industry and finance from the efforts made to defeat him and what he stood for—for it was concentrated against him—but he also knew, as he said so often, that its influence had become dominant in the 80th Congress which he castigated from stump to stump and all around every stump.

In the new 81st Congress with its comfortable Democratic majorities, the process will be reversed, so to speak.

While there is no intention of any sort of punitive action against big business, as Democratic spokesmen have been so careful to reiterate in recent weeks since the election, it is the intention to try to break the strength of monopolistic big business in Congress, to expose the alarming growth of monopoly and its effect on the individual citizen, and to do certain things to check that extension of monopoly and to bring it under control.

This is a matter that affects not only the entire domestic economy and its continued health, but also the peace and prosperity of the whole world, for it reaches directly into the field of foreign affairs through the still great influence of international business and finance in international politics.

* * *

Work Has Started.

THE INSTRUMENT is at hand in Congress in the joint committee on the economic report which was created by the 1945 Employment Act. Its assigned task is to keep a constant watch on economic conditions, to receive periodic reports from the President's Council of Economic Advisers also set up in that act, and to propose such legislative action as it deems necessary from a study of those reports and their recommendations and its own independent findings.

It did little in the 80th Congress under the chairmanship of Senator Taft (R.-O.), who is not one to disturb the status quo. It is likely to be very busy in the 81st Congress under the chairmanship of Senator O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.), the recognized authority in Congress on monopoly, its growth and consequences and a veritable Jeremiah in proclaiming the dangers of monopoly to free democratic government.

Already the committee staff is at work on several projects. The committee will become a laboratory on the economy as well as a sounding board for the ideas of the senator and the administration.

A pattern of approach is forming in the senator's plan to inquire into the practice of great industrial enterprises in setting prices for a whole industry and to investigate the field of investment capital to find out what can be done to make it easier for small business to finance itself, and likewise in his advocacy of an excess profits tax and of compulsory allocation of scarce materials so that all industry, small and big, will get a share. Voluntary allocation imposed by the last Congress has failed.

"The chief mission of the 81st Congress," he said, "is the development of formulas to make industrial organizations serve a free economy."

Early in the new Congress the senator expects to have something to say about our soft policy toward German monopolies.

Washington Calling

Let's Learn the Facts

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE MISERABLE, petty practice of congressmen who compel their employes to kick back part of their salaries or who put names on the congressional payroll of those who perform no service should be exposed. Rep. J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey is involved and now similar charges have been brought against Rep. Alvin O'Konski of Wisconsin.

But this does seem petty indeed alongside the need for investigation of what may well be a scandal of major proportions. Ever since the middle of the summer rumors have persisted that the oil lobby would spend millions of dollars to defeat President Truman.

Their interest was in the vast wealth of tideland oil which they are now exploiting. President Truman has stood firm for keeping the oil in the tidal waters under federal jurisdiction. He has been backed by national defense chiefs who have argued the acute necessity for military reserves.

On the other hand, the Republican platform called for turning over the tideland resources to the states. Therefore, it was essential to major oil interests to insure Truman's defeat.

How was this to be done? One way was to underwrite a revolt in the states of the normally Solid South. In a close election the electoral votes of three or four southern states might provide the margin between defeat and victory.

In August hints came from the Democratic national committee that oil interests in Texas were providing unlimited funds for the Dixiecrat revolt. The issue of the President's civil rights program which had engendered deep and genuine feeling throughout the South, was a convenient battle front.

* * *

Not a Partisan Issue.

THE REPORT of expenditures by the Dixiecrat party shows nothing out of the way with respect to oil. But such reports, and this is true not merely of the Dixiecrats, have tended to encroach more and more on the realm of fiction.

Comparatively at least, the Dixiecrat campaign was not a costly one. There were many sources of revenue, including the large utility companies. Perhaps the oil interests did not have to come through, with any big amounts, the persistent rumors may be baseless.

But we have a right to know all that can possibly be known. This whole matter is vitally related to national security and the future of a resource that is rapidly wasting.

This need not be a partisan political investigation. It is too big for that. Republicans of the conviction of Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire should be willing to join with Democrats to do the digging into what may well be a sordid piece of political business.

The public is entitled to know the status of the great treasure of oil that lies under the tidal lands, for the Supreme Court has held that those lands belong to every citizen. If oil eight or nine thousand miles away in the Middle East is vital to our security, then how much more vital is the oil on our doorstep.

In dealing with the states on the tidelands issue, the federal government has been more than reasonable, particularly on the problem of state revenues from this source. If the public's property is to be safeguarded, action is essential on Capitol Hill and in the department of justice.

Slaughter Claims Lobbying 'Part of Job'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Democratic Senator-elect Bob Kerr of Oklahoma couldn't resist a little good-natured ribbing when he breezed into town the other day for his first meeting with the President since the election.

"You Democrats did a great job in Missouri," said the hefty, six-foot-two Oklahoman. "Yes, that big victory vote you turned out was really inspiring. Of course, it wasn't quite as big as the victory margin we polled in Oklahoma."

"Yes, I know all about it," chuckled Truman. "But did you notice the congressional gains we made in Missouri? We knocked off eight Republican congressmen in the House of Representatives. There's only one Republican left in the Missouri House delegation."

"Hmmm," mused Kerr. "You say that Missouri still has one Republican congressman? Very unfortunate. In Oklahoma we made a clean sweep, electing all Democrats to the House. Maybe we could give you Missourians some pointers."

"Just give us a little time," countered Truman, with a grin. "We're working on it."

* * *

Lobbying In Secret.

EX-CONGRESSMAN Roger Slaughter of Kansas City, now indicted for failing to register as a lobbyist, has concocted a legal toe-stubber, which he will take to the court of appeals.

He claims that lobbying was part of his legal work and that a lawyer's services for his client is privileged.

If the Kansas City ex-congressman gets by with this one, all lawyers will automatically be exempt from the lobbying laws.

There's nothing illegal about lobbying—provided it is done in the open. That is the reason for the Lobbying Act, which requires lobbyists to register with Congress, telling who they're working for and how much they're paid.

Note—It was Slaughter who was laragely responsible for farmers' failure to get full parity prices; for he lobbied through Congress the provision prohibiting the Government from renting more grain storage space.

* * *

Veers Toward Monopoly.

SCARCELY a line appeared in the newspapers, but every business man should read the warnings to to American business given before the House small business committee by Morris Ernst, brilliant New York attorney.

Although Ernst blasted the dangers of monopoly, he also warned against government controls, on the ground that government "will get too big and (as in Russia) do an inefficient job."

Once the government starts taking over business there will be no stopping, Ernst declared, because "it will be afraid of criticism and will take over the most precious business of all in America, that of getting access to the minds of the people: radio, movies and the press."

Big business itself is blazing the trail for "statism," Ernst charged, by its unpoliced monopolies, adding that mergers today are the highest in 15 years.

To stop the dangerous trend, Ernst urged Congress to begin breaking up the big insurance companies, chain stores and other monopolies, just as we have broken up utility holding companies and chain banking.

* * *

Revamp Commerce Department.

AT THE same time, declared Ernst, the "mandate" of the Commerce Department should be rewritten by Congress to make that department the servant of 500,000 small free enterprises instead of the servant of 400 big concerns "that control one-half the resources of the United States."

Ernst contended that the dismembering of monopolies was not only good democracy, but good business for everybody, including the big firms.

He cited innumerable studies, showing that the prime motive behind a monopoly was power—not profits. As a monopoly increases in size, its efficiency and profits both suffer.

The fact is very definitely proved that earnings before mergers were 18 per cent higher than in the first year after the mergers," Ernst told the small business committee.

"And after ten years, the earnings did not even equal the first year's earnings."

Another study made in 1935, he said, showed that 19 large steel companies lost $19,000,000, while 129 small ones earned $6,000,000.

"But that is not the question," concluded Ernst. "The question is that the power in the market place is such that the big boys will eventually squeeze out the little men—particularly the profitable ones.

The Nation Today

What Starts Thinking?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—What started you thinking? Do you know?

Every once in a while you hear someone say:

" A lot of books influenced my life, started me thinking, put my feet on the ground. But the one that influenced me most....."

The he starts. And you listen in amazement, wondering how that particular book could have influenced anyone—because the book that most influenced you was so different.

I know a man who has been all around the world and, I think, would rather live abroad than here. I asked him to list for me the books he believed had most to do with shaping his life and thinking.

The first book on his list was H. Rider Haggard's "She," a romance, a completely unreal romance of darkest Africa.

In the book Alana Quartermain, an English adventurer, met "She," a woman centuries old who had the secret of eternal beauty.

Then he listed other books, books on Egypt, Asia, ancient Rome, ten in all. When he grew up he lived in all those places.

"Why did you put 'She' first on the list?" I asked him.

"Because," he said, "I think it made the earliest and deepest impression on me. I was raised in the Middle West. I was used to the sameness of it, at least the part I lived in.

"And 'She' started me thinking of how the rest of the world might be. I began to want to see some of it.

As he grew older he read the other books on his list because they dealt with far-away places, ancient times, and the mystic color of the East. They strengthened his desire to go away. In time, he went.

Never-Ending Problem.

ANOTHER man said to me not long ago:

"You know, I don't think the major problem of our time is communism, but the earth itself. We've abused it. We've gobbled up its resources. At the rate the race is increasing, the earth won't be able to produce enough food for everyone."

He was very intense about this belief. The more he talked, the more I wondered what made him so sure his belief was right and what had started him along that line of thinking.

So I asked him, too, to jot down for me the books that had influenced his thinking.

He listed a Greek history, a book on Greek philosophy, a book on the rise and fall of civilizations, a book on evolution, a book on agriculture, a book on the forces at work in civilization.

Their message pretty much added up to this: man is very small compared with the universe and has reached peaks, fallen back into valleys, and will repeat the performance.

Because my friend has that view, he sees communism as one of our present problems but the problem of getting a living out of the earth as a never-ending one.

I asked the same question of some newspapermen I know. I picked the ones I asked because they're good, warm human beings with understanding and feeling for the problems and shortcomings of other people.

And I was surprised at the number of them who said two books by H. G. Wells—"Outline of History" and "Science of Life"—were the biggest and best earliest influences in their lives.

Why? They said something like:

"The history gave me a view of the world I never had before. It was like looking through the small end of a telescope. For the first time, all the pieces fitted together. It gave me a sense of continuity with the past.

"For the first time I was shaken out of thinking only in local terms or national terms and began thinking in terms of the whole world. It made me understand how we all started from the same terrible, primitive background and how far we have to go before we really have the thing we call civilization.

"And the 'Science of Life' gave me, close up and all in one piece, a knowledge of living things."

Dilated Veins In Legs

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OF ALL the disorders affecting the circulation in the legs, varicose veins are by far the most common. So many people have these dilated, permanently engorged veins that it is indeed fortunate that they cause no symptoms unless there are special complications.

Even so, however, varicose veins are unsightly, and many people wish to get rid of them simply as an aid to appearance. In just as many other cases, varicose veins are responsible for a feeling of fullness or heaviness in the lower part of the leg. This is sometimes severe enough to cause a dragging or aching sensation when standing.

Walking lessens the discomfort, and though it tends to get worse as the day progresses, it is almost entirely relieved by lying down. In a few cases, muscle cramps occur at night.

Localized Area

In some patients who have had varicose veins for years, pain and soreness may suddenly develop in a localized area. The symptoms become worse when walking and are relieved by rest and heat. Fever and mild swelling of the lower part of the leg may also occur.

These symptoms are produced by an inflammation of the vein called phlebitis. On examination, firm, tender lumps are found in the enlarged veins. The surrounding tissues may be red and swollen.

Sometimes, inflammation occurs in the deeper veins of the legs, particularly following operation. This disorder seems to occur more frequently in the autumn and winter months. In these cases, there is deep, boring, aching pain in the sole of the foot, in the calf, or behind the knee or inner side of the thigh.

This pain is made worse on standing, but becomes less when walking or lying down. The patient often has fever or an increase in the heart-beat, some swelling of the foot or lower leg, and some tenderness on pressure of the lower calf.

When inflammation of the veins occur, prompt treatment by the physician is important.

Farmer's Diary

All Mothers Grieve

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE SUN was lowering behind the western clouds, and bathed the hilltop with amber. I stood in the valley and rested my eyes on the distant view. A young hunter hurried along with his gun in the crook of his arm—going home, I thought.

All at once thirty yards ahead of him, a bevy of quail flew up. Surprised and excited, he took sudden aim and fired. One shot. Then, as suddenly, lowered his gun and swung hurriedly out of sight over the hill.

In the amber light I saw the quails begin to drop. One, two—another fluttered down into the grass! I walked up to the spot and found three dead birds and another that made a strangled cry and died as I looked on. They were plump and beautiful.

Even as I stood there a grieving mother bird began faint consoling chirps. Then as I walked slowly away a strong quavering "wh-i-ite" made the woods echo back her pleading.

That evening, an hour later, I heard the same strange voice call vainly from the distant hilltop. The bereaved note that compelled every heart to listen seemed too sad for one small bird well-hidden in the grass. The whole valley rang with the plaintive pleading call, and the quiet hillside seemed to be wrapped in dark grief and loneliness.

Who can think that wild things do not grieve? I once saw a mother fox carry home the limp half-dead body of one of her cubs that had been wounded. She picked it up by the back of the neck and laid it down tenderly at the entrance to her den, then licked it. It moaned and whimpered, and finally ceased to move.

The mother fox nosed around it gently, then laid down beside it and put her nose between her two forepaws. When two more of her brood began to play about the still one, she cuffed them away and sent them back whimpering to the den beneath the log.

So long as there was a quiver of life left in the injured one, she kept soothing its injuries and chafing its limp body with her warm tongue. I have always wondered whether she succeeded in nursing it back to health.

As Cerf Tells It

Dr. Morris Fishbein, head of the AMA, tells of one medico who wrote out a prescription in the usual legible fashion doctors use on such occasions. The patient used it for two years as a railroad pass. Twice it got him into Radio City Music Hall, and once into Ebbets Field. It came in handy as a letter from his employer to the cashier to increase his salary. And to cap the climax his daughter played it on the piano and won a scholarship to the Curtis Music Conservatory.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THE NEXT Congress will investigate profits. According to the president the last Congress was without any.

* * *

But Sen. Flanders says Congress wants to know what to do with 20 billion dollar earnings toward which we are moving . . . Evidently we have run out of nations to which to give it.

* * *

The next Congress hopes to insure American business an income such as it never dreamed of and a tax bite it never dreamed of either.

* * *

Still none of us should give up hope . . . If we work at this thing we may be able to get back to the good old times when there was no profit. Say 1932-1941.

* * *

But it's good to know that the farmers' income remains steady although some of the consumers are getting a little shakey.

Slump Hits Christmas Purchasing

'Shop Early' Advice Wasted

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Housewives across the nation are ignoring the traditional Christmas warning to "shop early," and some merchants are getting worried about the unseasonable sales resistance.

A survey showed today that since election week sales have been running consistently behind last year's level.

Store operators are wondering whether 1948 Christmas shopping will fall below last year's record volume. It would be the first such slump in 11 years Not since 1937 has the Christmas rush failed to produce a new sales record in department stores.

The federal reserve board reported that last week's sales again failed to come up to the corresponding 1947 week It was the third week in a row that that has happened. The board's figures show that the slump was nationwide.

Sales for last week were six per cent below the same week last year. For the four weeks ended Nov. 20, sales were five per cent below the corresponding period last year.

Federal reserve board officials have not tried to explain the slump. Their offhand guesses which pretty well match the views of big retailers sound like this:

1. Unseasonably warm weather has caused shoppers to postpone their Christmas chore Merchants think it has also slowed routine shopping for cold-weather clothes, accessories and the like.

2. Election results may have influenced sales. Some retailers think disappointed voters are hanging onto their money. Others believe customers are holding off in the hope that President Truman may bring down prices.

3. Natural consumer resistance may be making itself felt Some merchants think prices of all commodities are now so high that many customers have had to postpone or restrict their department store purchases

4. Because most merchandise is plentiful, housewives may be returning to shopping habits which prevailed before wartime shortages made "first come first served" the usual shopping rule

Horoscope

For Tuesday, November 30
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

Despite difficult and disappointing situations, the final outlook is not, perhaps, without hope, security and lasting benefit, with delayed pleasure. But these must be definitely worked for, not only through judicious attention to long-range factors but by a general attitude to logical routine ways and means. This may be demonstrated in a friendly, sympathetic and considerate approach to elders, employers or others whose good will is essential. Social, domestic and business issues are involved. Health also may need attention.

IF IT IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a period in which a pause for reflection, with well-considered behavior in relation to elders, employers and superiors, especially considerate and sympathetic attention to those in domestic or social contact, may work wonders in removing obstacles or discounting disappointments. Sound judgment in business, keeping a level head if new agreements come up for decision; also health and thrift may call for attention for pleasant and long-range benefits.

A child born on this day may require particular attention to its education, since its judgment may be slow and energy lagging.

For an after-school treat, serve filled fruit cookies with mugs of milk. Try thick tart applesauce from early fall apples, or a mixture of peanut butter, dates, brown sugar and butter as the filling for this type of cookie. These frut "tarts" pack well and will be greeted with delight when mailed to the young college set away at school.

EGGS FOR SUPPER DISH

Use eggs for a nutritious and economical supper dish. Chop a medium-sized onion and a green pepper and saute them in a little butter or margarine. Turn the vegetables into a greased baking dish and break half a dozen eggs over the mixture. Sprinkle the eggs with salt and pepper and place the baking dish in a shallow pan of water in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes, or until the eggs are set.

A thick glass filled with hot water is more likely to crack than a thin one.

It's Papa Who Pays!

Women's Clothes Keep Fathers Broke

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There is a lot of hot steam up over whether mama spends more for girdles and feathers than pop does for galluses and neckties.

The Bureau of Labor statistics claims the old man, who pays all the bills anyhow, spends more. But I would like to put in my Nichols worth.

I contend that, discounting fur coats and other necessary things, us providers spend more to keep Junior from going around raw than we do on mama—or papa.

Take a nine-year-old girl. Her mama says that if she gets through a year without buying at least six pairs of shoes for Sis, Daddy is lucky. At $7.95 a copy for the publicized Mary Janes that's $49.70.

Then snow suits. Kid can rough it with one for sledding and the other for Sunday school. Say $19.75 apiece.

Underwear: Four slips, total $7.92; four undershirts, $4.00; 8 pairs of panties, some silk, $8.00.

And did you ever figure how much they spend on dresses, shorts for summer, jeans, etc? That is, in case there is nobody above to shed hand-me-downs, like an older sister or cousin?

Well, the little velvet numbers for dress-up are expensive. So are the plain little things kids wear to school and the cheaper ones for playtime. How much? Look back over your old bills, paid and unpaid. $135, at least.

Plus a spring coat, around $29.50; ditto for one for fall, on account of young things grow.

For the vain one, a couple of purses a year—$2.98 each.

Two dozen pairs of stockings, or bobbysox. Say $13.00. Six nighties for winter and summer. Looking over the bills—$11.88.

A growing girl grows better if she thinks she's a sweater girl. The needs, at age nine, about three a year and try and get a decent one for less than about eight bucks a copy.

A couple pair of overshoes run to another $6. A good raincoat comes to about $12, and any little girl caught in the rain without an umbrella cries. The tear and rainstopper is worth a fin. Bedroom slippers, two pairs, $3.98; bathrobe $9.50.

And "babooshkas" or scarves. They run around $2 or $3 a piece and any little girl worth her daddy can lose at least one a month on the way home from class.

A dozen hair ribbons at around $1.98 total is skimping a little, but you can slice the material down the middle and make it do double.

Jewelry. $15 won't go very far when you count a ring or two and some danglers for the charm bracelet.

And bobby pins. Dime a card. That sounds like a simple little business but when the little lady, or boss of the house, is supporting a large family of dolls—all with frizzy hair that needs a daily uppinning—it adds up to a sum of money.

All of this, for one little girl, adds up to around something just shy of $500 a year.

Mom can wear that cloth coat another year. Daddy wasn't really counting on a new suit, anyhow.
